DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Regarding claims 6 and 7, the word "means" is preceded by the word(s) "initialization" in an attempt to use a "means" clause to recite a claim element as a means for performing a specified function. However, since no function is specified by the word(s) preceding "means," it is impossible to determine the equivalents of the element, as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph. See Ex parte Klumb, 159 USPQ 694 (Bd. App. 1967).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 4,050,458 to Friend.

6. As to claim 6, Friend teaches a respiratory circuit comprising a pressure transducer 18, a differential amplifier (comprised of amplifier 50, differentiator 56); initialization means 52 coupled to the output of the differential amplifier (via slope sign circuit 58); a voltage comparator 54 coupled to the output of the initialization means; and a delayed negative feedback circuit 60 coupled to the output of the initialization means, the output of the negative feedback being coupled to the differential amplifier, the delayed negative feedback circuit reducing the gain of the differential amplifier to substantially zero during a predetermined time period (col. 5, line 45 – col. 6, line 2) upon activation of the initialization period, the output of the voltage comparator changing state when the breath of a patient is detected subsequent to the completion of the predetermined time period (col. 6, lines 3-25).

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 7-10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
